ADVERTISING ABCS WITH WIL ANDERSON
A Quickie with the Gruen host

THE TRUTH ABOUT COLLEGE KIDS
Incest on Campus!

IT'S HAMMER TIME
Tennant Trauma

WIN
POWERHOUSE MUSEUM PASSES
GRUEN SWEAT BOX SETS
+ MORE

FROM SEX TO SHOWER HOGS, THOU SHALT NOT LIVE IN A SHARE HOUSE WITHOUT FOLLOWING THESE RULES.
Confession time: I still live at home. Does that ruin my Main Walkway cred? Meh, the point is I’m nervous when I move out to live with people who don’t have to lose me, I’ll do something really annoying and alienate my new roommates.

This week we visited Mount Sinai and came back with the Ten Commandments for share housing and golly they’re intense (p9). Thank God we also came back with Will Anderson (p7) to lighten up the mood.

We also snuck into Baxter College to get the answers to questions that have been keeping us up at night – or maybe that’s just nerves about revealing my Britney obsession at the Wolanski Muir Trivia Night Fundraiser this Thursday at the Roundhouse. Oh, yes, looks like I just acted myself.

Philosophers have long pondered share houses and what hidden equilibrium makes them work. Well it’s not actually that mystical, having a few rules that everyone agrees upon definitely helps prevent bathrooms and kitchens from becoming key battlefields in a domestic Mexican standoff (when no one cleans anything ever).

For those of us not fortunate enough to live near campus, make sure you have friends who do! If those mates from your first year tutorial or lab become even more vital to your survival (especially come October) Otherwise make new friends through volunteering or doing a Roundhouse Degree.

On an entirely different note, if you’ve ever got any questions about Arc, the Board or even who is this woman and why is he in my magazine? I’m always happy to answer them. Also, check out the Board (Big!) updates on what we’ve been getting up to at arc.unsw.edu.au/board-digest

Alex Peck
Chair of Arc
chair@arc.unsw.edu.au

Antonia Shuttleworth
Blitz Editor
blitzeditor@arc.unsw.edu.au
You know the Coke you just drank? Or the Coke that you’re about to go buy after reading this sentence? It’s all tied up in the power of advertising, buddy. One man who is revealing how the ad game works is the host of ABC’s hottest property The Glenn Transfer, comic Wil Anderson. Before embarking on what will be his 18th stand-up tour, Wil Anderson chatted to blitz about his non-existent Olympic dreams, absent future goals, and his rather (not so) useful uni degree.

Your comic style specialises in social and political commentary; would you say that studying Journalism at the University of Caracas has helped you during your career? Probably not at all! I will say though that when I stopped doing journalism to go into comedy was seen as quite a risky move, but the story is that almost 18 years later newspapers are doing and comedy is a thriving industry.

Speaking of thriving, you’ve been on the radio, television and you do stand-up; are there any goals that you haven’t yet achieved? I’ve never had any goals; I’ve always just lived for the moment and always will. From an early age I subscribed to that Woody Allen quote, “How do you make God laugh? Tell him your plans”.

Now you’ve just completed the Olympic themed Brown Sweed, and having watched all the events in London, what would you compete in at the 2014 Olympics? I wouldn’t be at the Olympics because there is no way I would ever compete. I don’t even like thinking about doing something energetic, if they ever bring in an event about finding the ripest avocado I could probably compete, otherwise I have no desire for competing in the Olympic Games.

On the topic of Herculean efforts, Wil Anderson is your 15th tour where you’ve turned your name into a pun and made it the headline. Where did the idea come from? Once met a comedian named WI Durns at the Melbourne Comedy Festival, and when I asked him for advice he said, “always put your name in the title of the show and make sure it’s a pun so that people will remember”. The funny thing is though, a few years later and he told me he just gave me that advice to get rid of me so that he could go to the bar, but it was actually great advice! I’ve got about 60 or so to choose from... I just double did another 60 tours.

Well hopefully one of those tours will bring you back to our fair Roundhouse [Anderson headlined the 2011 UNSW Comedy Gala in the Roundhouse last August.]. Do you change your show much for a uni crowd? My shows don’t change at all – to be honest, I try to bring the exact same approach to every crowd.

I play to. I have to tour for nine months, so essentially I try and make the material interesting to me no matter what the environment or occasion.

Brown Sweed has wrapped up but never fear, you can catch Wil Anderson on Brown Planet on ABC this Wednesday at 8.30pm. Anderson will also be performing down the road at The Comedy Store at Fox Studios from August 30 to September 23 if you want to catch his Wilatronic show.

From an early age I subscribed to that Woody Allen quote, “How do you make God laugh? Tell him your plans”.

A WIL LIVED LIFE:

1974 Born in Victoria
1997 Embarks on his first WI journey tours; wins The Witurk
2001 Chosen to host new Australian talk show, The Glass House
2006 The Glass House is cancelled despite best season having its best ever ratings.
The same year the show would be nominated for an ARIA and two Logies
2008 REGINA hosting new show The Brown Tranfer which looks at advertising and controversial media
2018 Brown Transfer wins ARIA Best Light Entertainment Award - Anderson wins ARIA Best Comedy Performance of the Year and the Helpmann Award for Best Comedy Performer for David Mirvac
2011 Meet the Winnies! the People’s Choice Award at the Melbourne International Comedy Festival
2012 Regina marries Wil Anderson in Australia’s most popular magazine, Blitz
THE TEN SHARE HOUSE COMMANDMENTS

BLITZ BREAKS DOWN THE UNFORGIVABLE SINS AND ROOMMATE RULES IN 2012 CE.

Leaving home is a liberating experience. It’s a rite of passage everybody has to go through (apart from a few at the academies from the Engineering faculty), marking a key step on the path to adulthood — but with great freedom comes great responsibility. While strolling up Main Walkway one day, I discovered a tablet on the ground with a helpful inscription from the God of Moving Out, which lays those responsibilities down. For the sake of your immortal soul, I suggest you have a read...

1. Thou shalt not kill thy housemate.
   This should be a no-brainer; however, this fundamental breach of housemate etiquette is on the rise across America. Who knows when this phenomenon may cross the Pacific? But, just to be perfectly clear: no matter how badly they pass you off, it is never okay to kill a housemate. Rather, any disputes should be resolved over nog and biscuits.

2. Thou shalt not hook up with thy housemates.
   According to ANY SPACE tenant Robin Walker, when you do, “It’s just nasty.” No matter how good an idea it seems at the time, there’s always a morning after. If you tinker with the foundations of household society, you can’t complain when it falls on your head.

3. Thou shalt tap quietly.
   Housemates should take pleasure in their own staved successes in the field of love (or commandment #2 for emphasis). But, as with all things, there’s a limit. No matter how badly you’d like the rest of the house to know you’ve scored, nobody wants to hear your lovebirds’ moans through the paper-thin walls of your bedroom.

4. Thou shalt remove thy own stains of fecal residue from the bowl of the toilet.
   Everybody who has ever shared a house has at some point suffered the unpleasant greeting of another’s brown stains in the toilet bowl. This sucks. A scrubbing brush — or even just a piece of toilet paper — is all it takes to remove such stains, and is much easier done by the culprit than the poor sucker rastered on for toilet-cleaning duties at the end of the week.

5. Thou shalt not allow thy significant other to take half-hour showers at peak shower times.
   As Sidonie Le Musier, an Engineering PhD student explains, “Significant others should be left in bliss for morning showers if they are not going to pay rent. Especially if they plan on recreating their own full length film in the rain production in the shower.”

6. Thou shalt fulfill thy housemate duties.
   There’s nothing more irritating than a housemate who won’t pull her or his weight around the house. An S&J way: “Unless your name is Bill and you live in a Disney castle with the Beast, you’ll have to wash, dry, AND put the dishes away yourself!”

7. Thou shalt not leave thy rotting vegetables in the fridge.
   The same goes for fruit, meat, and cheese. Like your beard and other personal areas you have to keep your corner of the fridge clean. It’s a very bad thing if it emits a foul odor, and is deemed useless if people cringe when they open it.

8. Remember the Sabbath to keep it holy.
   Which is to say, don’t go in yo housemates’ girlz with yo fun activities while they are trying to relax, study or recover from hangovers on the weekend. Depending on the particular dynamic of your house; group activities are to be encouraged, but a housemate’s time to him or herself is to be respected.

9. Thou shalt not covet thy housemates’ wife or his maidservant nor his maidservant’s maidservant nor his ass.
   Now I’m pretty sure The Big Man was referring to a type of milk or donkey when he said this to Moses. Debates aside, Roundhouse are to this term’s true meaning have proven inconclusive. But to help you through this complex moral, and third-grader mindset, I suggest that if it can be referred to as an ass, you shouldn’t covet it — nor any thing that’s thy neighbours.

    Taking notes about your housemate behind their back is the most heinous of sins. Should they not get out of this code, do not publicize their transgressions, rather, sit down with your cohabitant and talk. The issue out in an environment of love and care.

Obey these commandments and thou shalt live in a student share house filled with parties, peace and (hopefully) poo stain-free potties.
WHAT'S ON UNSW
20TH AUG - 26TH AUG

TRAVEL N' TRIVA

TRIVIA NIGHT
6PM THURS AUGUST 23
RUNDHOUSE

MID SESSION

FULL MOON PARTY
5PM THURS 30 AUG

UNSW ROUNDHOUSE

ALISON WONDERLAND

FEAR OF DAWN (MINISTRY OF SOUND FEAT. MICHELLE MARTINEZ)

DEVOLA • MENDOZA SOUND SYSTEM • INTHEMIX DJs • JAMES V

BODY PAINT • ROVING DRUMMERS • FIRE DANCERS

FREE ENTRY BEFORE 8PM. THEN ARC MEMBERS $5, UNSW $10 AND ALL OTHERS $15

SRC ELECTIONS NOW OPEN
NOMINATIONS CLOSE 31/10/12

ARC AND INTHEMIX PRESENT

POWER UP AT THE POWERHOUSE MUSEUM

The Darling of Darling Harbour

Jock O'Brien

Now that we've reached our sixth week back at uni, our bodies and minds are starting to hate us for the combination of early rises, all-nighters before assignment deadlines, and the endless running up of Besser steps to that dreaded tutorial in Maths 201. Treat yourself this weekend and bounce back to Week 7 pumped and ready for the Mid-Semester Break by visiting one of Sydney's most prized possessions, the Powerhouse Museum.

The Chronicles of Narnia Exhibition
Price: $14
When: Closing this Sunday August 28th
If you're a fan of Aslan and his mates? Well the Powerhouse will take you on a 3D tour of the film's sets and let you into the mind of CS Lewis by providing real props and costumes from the epic trilogy.

Faith, Fashion, Fusion: Muslim Women's Style in Australia
Price: Free with admission
When: Until February 2013
From street-style to red carpet dresses, explore the emerging modest fashion market in this new exhibition.

Australian International Design Awards
Price: Free with admission
When: Until December
Feeling like your talents are wasted at uni? Before you sign up to appear on an episode of The Next Inventor, check out this selection of innovative products from the Australian International Design Awards 2012 to make sure that your design hasn't already been patented.

Walk away from the Powerhouse feeling rejuvenated for any last ditch assignments or exams that have been scheduled for the last week before holidays. Why do they do that to us? Head online to check out the other exhibitions and pre-order your tickets: powerhousemuseum.com.

CHEAP A$$ SYDNEY

BURNING BRIGHT

Lucene Nights at Darling Quarter
Fri 31 Aug 4-10pm
@ Village Green, Darling Quarter, 1-25 Harbour Street, Sydney
Cost: FREE
Grab a drink, a chair and some delicious dinner and enjoy a modern Wordworthian experience as you explore the relationship between nature and technology. Bring along your smartphone and allow the cost perpers from ARiSG Gallery to delight you with projections of games like Snake and Pong, art and atmospheric lighting effects.

Experiments
Price: Free with admission
When: Permanent exhibition
Whether you're studying Science, or dropped it in Year 10(!) understanding the periodic table, the Powerhouse will have something on show to intrigue you. It's time to make even the most religious people ponder their roots, so if you believe in a higher god, maybe go there instead.

Cyberworlds: Computers and Connections
Price: Free with admission
When: Permanent exhibition
Computer Science books will love this. Check out this interactive exhibition of computers through time - sometimes including future predictions. It's crazy to imagine computers the size of rooms compared to that little i-Phone that you accidentally dropped on the floor this morning.

MAD MEN

Fifties Fair
Sun 31 Aug 10am-6pm
@ Rose Solder House, 71 Clovelly Road, Wollongong
Cost: $25-$30
Spend all your time wishing you were as suave as Don Draper or ironingingham dresses so that you can look as beautifully brokens as Betty? Pin on your Sunday best and jog in your Chevy for a long drive to the past; there'll be fifties dancing, snacks and chill outs.

GALACTIC GALLIVANTS

Star Wars Barbecue. The Empire Strikes Back
Sat 25-Sun 26 August 7pm
@ The Vanguard, 62 King St, Newtown
Cost: $33-85 BF
While pricier than our usual picks, this night will be worth its weight in gold - or should we say, Imperial Credit. If you're interested in the real reason Darth Vader breathes so heavily or what's falling under the mysterious Jedi robes grab a ticket to the far reaches of a galaxy far, far away.

FRIENDLY FIRES

Harbourside Fireworks
Sat 18 August 8.30pm
@ Harbourmaster, Darling Harbour
Cost: FREE
Need a bit of fireworks in your relationship? Or your internal flame in danger of going out? Head down to the water and watch some magic light up the night sky. Bring your sunglasses, a blanket or beach towel. The fires of passion will be burning again by the time the last midnite-store explode across the star-filled harbour sky.

Share House Shakedown

If living in college is making passing your mid semester exams seem impossible, or if that guy/girl from Uni Bar suddenly said they had to go when they realized that you still lived at home, it might be time to look at moving out. Here are a few tips to keep you sane and out of trouble.

Firstly, choose your housemates carefully. Moving out with the party animals will be great fun, but will probably make finishing that assignment a nightmare. On the other hand living with bookworms means that you'll always be able to study, but they might not be so understanding of you coming home in the wee hours after a big night out.

Secondly, record everything! Think your tenancy agreement, communication with the landlord, house inspection times - everything; make a Where House disputes arise when there's no documentation and you're a far stronger case if you've kept records.

Thirdly, if an issue does arise with your landlord, don't stop paying rent! If you don't pay rent for 14 days then your agreement can be terminated and you can be evicted. On that note, make sure you know your rights and responsibilities.

Going to tenants.org.au and getting your head around tenancy can save you a lot of money and heartbreak down the track. And as always, send us an email at advice@berkeleyu.edu.au if you get really stuck.

Happy househunting!
Matthew Cooper
Student Support and Advocacy Intern
Drop us a line at advice@berkeleyu.edu.au or ring (02) 9116 7100.

IT'S HAMMER TIME

NEED TO GET RID OF STUFF?

It's easy to book a FREE Council Clean-up collection with Randwick City Council.

1. Call 1300 722 54 or book online, by scanning the code to the right with a QR-enabled phone or by visiting Visit www.randwick.nsw.gov.au/cleanup and type in your free cleanup collection. You can book up to two on-call cleanup collections each year.

2. You will receive your booking confirmation in the mail.

3. Place up to 5m³ of items neatly on the nature strip the night before your collection date.

4. Council will collect your material free of charge.

The service is a facility of Randwick City Council. Any resident may also place their unwanted goods in the blue skip bin located on your street for Council collection. Information on the disposal of items is available from Council.

For more information, phone Council's Call Centre on 1300 722 54 or go to www.randwick.nsw.gov.au.

WALAMA MURU & NURA GALLI

THURS 23 AUG ROUNDHOUSE 6PM

TRIVIA, PRIZES, GAMES, SHOWBAGS, SILENT AUCTIONS
GET A TEAM OF 8-10 PEOPLE
RSVP through a Walama Muru volunteer or by emailing walamamuru@atc.unsw.edu.au
WIN
A TRIP TO PARIS!

SIMPLY LIKE 'ISIC AUSTRALIA' ON FACEBOOK OR SCAN BELOW

Global Student Discount & ID Card
41,000 Discounts Worldwide

Travel Further  Stay Longer  Experience More

> isiccard.com.au

UNIVERSITY TERRACES
Display apartment open for viewings from 1 September. Come see the best new student accommodation at UNSW, Contact UNSW Residential Communities for more information www.rc.unsw.edu.au

THE TRUTH ABOUT COLLEGE KIDS

They're in your lectures, they sit next to you in tutorials, and they steal your pens. They're not afraid to wear track suit pants or uggs to class because it is only metres from their own home, and grooming is often not worth the hassle as their local, the Roundhouse, caters to everyone.

No it's not a UNSW Fight Club, I'm talking about UNSW's mysterious student population of College Kids. This week Blitz Infiltrated Baxter College to find out more about the secret world of College Kids.*

Does it cost a billion dollars to live on campus, especially compared to a share house in Newtown?

For a full year of college habitation it's a minimum of around $13,000, however returning college kids get discounted rates.

What are the benefits of living on campus?

Apart from being able to wake up minutes before class, academically you also have more time to study as you have less travel time, allowing you to enjoy the vast amount of opportunities for socialising, sport, sex etc.

We've heard about 'brothers' and 'sisters' bonding as college mates...

All the college bondage happens during O-Week where there are 100+ people in the same situation as you, so by the end of the week you'll be closer to these guys than blood relatives. After such an intense experience, your roommate becomes your 'brother', 'sister', 'parent' and other incestuous relations.

How does it compare to living at home with mom and dad to cook and clean for you? [Ed: hopefully not everyone thinks this way.]

This just in: College kids don't just eat MI Lo'ing at the time. Apparently Baxter College prepares meals for its students during the given meal hours and - despite claims - the standard of food is supposedly very good. On the other hand, peoples rooms certainly vary. Some college kids take great pride in their rooms and love heating boards of people, so they typically keep their rooms clean and free of general debris.

Most students interviewed agreed that campus living is a fantastic way to live, particularly during early university years, and after spending time with college students and coming accustomed to their ways, I realised that they are just like people too. So before judging them beungally of their generous sleep schedules, maybe everyone should save their pecans to spend a semester living/partying on campus.

*Names and degrees of our College sources have been withheld for the protection of our sources (just go with it).

- Jacob Burkel • The Blitz Team
REVIEW

Listen carefully and you just get bored, not by the lyrics, by the bone-headed four-chord verses or the repetitive structure.

On My Mind: Boy in a Box

I was surprised and delighted to find a modern street dance film with a legitimate plot and dancers who can act - and vice versa.

Step Up 4: Miami Heat

Step Up 4 is a well-made, energetic, and stylishly shot film that will keep audiences entertained for at least 100 minutes. It is a film that is not just about dancing, but about the sacrifices that must be made to achieve success. The film manages to balance action, drama, and comedy to create a film that is both entertaining and thought-provoking. The cast is excellent, with strong performances from each member. The dancing is well-choreographed and the music is perfect for the film. Overall, Step Up 4: Miami Heat is a film that should not be missed.
PUZZLED?

WORD SEARCH

Find as many words as you can in the square. Each word must be at least three letters long and include the middle letter, which is shown in bold. Each letter can only be used once.

TRIVIA by CONTACT

01. What is the Main Walkway really called?
02. Who is older: Brittany Spears or Christina Aguilera?
03. What is the name of the wizard from Harry Potter?
04. Where is the Sea of Tranquility?
05. Name all the UNSW Residential Colleges.

GO TO PAGE 23 TO SEE IF YOU ARE AS SMART AS YOUR PARENTS TELL YOU.

SUDOKU

Go to www.sudokupuzzles.net for solutions.

Q&A

BHAKTI YOGA CLUB

Feeling stressed or drained? Perhaps you need some healing — I’m tellin’ bout spiritual healing. And, according to UNSW yogi Jayant Ravindran that’s where the Bhakti Yoga Club comes in.

Every now and then a Blitz reporter hears some strange music and chanting on Thursday evenings around the Roundhouse, so we told us what that’s about?

Will Thursday evenings we have our music nights from either 5.45pm or 6.7pm in the Roundhouse or the Blockhouse where we sing and play spiritually elevating music. The chants are called mantras. You know what a mantra is, right?

Nope. Mantras means "mind" and "the" is "to deliver." We sing and focus our minds on the mantras as a form of congregational musical meditation.

Speaking of mindfulness, we hear you guys have some pretty awesome guest speakers at your Tuesday lunchtime talks?

Our speakers come from a Spiritual Centre in North Sydney. We also have special guest speakers from overseas too. The topics are always related to students — how to cope with stress and studies in a meaningful way as much as to seek spiritual solutions to everyday problems. We also have free vegetarian food at the end of each event.

So, you eat, sing and chat — what about the stretching?

Well it’s a Yoga society so it does delve into spirituality. The basic misunderstanding people have is that yoga is strictly to do with exercises but the actual meaning of the word yoga is 'unity.' Unity with what?

Well every living entity has a mind, a body and a spirit, and yoga aims to harmonise them one in one. We aim to unify the soul with the Supreme Lord, and we’re trying to share that with everyone at uni tonight.

---

CLUB LOVER: JAMES FRANKI
CircusSoc (Engineering/Commerce)

You’re in the circus but you’re not a clown! What do you do then?

No... I’m not the one who gets to hold girls (and sometimes guys) up in the air in strange positions and throw them around for a bit. Also, there’s a fire pole but other than my year on fire I decided it wasn’t really for me and moved on to acrobatics.

That’s pretty cool you do get to perform a lot?

Yeah, we go to plenty of events and also do professional performances outside of Uni — which we get paid for. One of my highlights from last year was performing for another club at their circus themed UNSW Society dinner. Although other people do it better, performing for the curly haired people is fairly cool too, we’ve had things like a girl setting apple tassels on fire and a hoseman in leopard print doing aerial acrobatics off a trampoline.

You guys always seem to get up to crazy things, what’ve been your best circus experiences?

Aside from juggling with a stunt man that’s dined at the gates of the city, everyone has witnessed the opening night when we decided it would be a great idea to jump in the surf! It was stupidly cold and we all ended the night sweating, but we were in for another hour to warm back up!

---

2012 CLUB of the YEAR AWARDS

Will NUTS take out the title of Club of the Year for two years in a row? Are the UNSW Society still the People’s Choice? Nominations for the 2012 Arc Club Awards are now open to Arc members! Have a think about who deserves the title of:

1. Arc Club of the Year
2. Arc Club Activity Award
3. Arc Club Event Photo Award
4. People’s Choice Arc Club of the Year

Nominations close on 8 August, so show your pride in your Club and head to arc.unsw.edu.au/awards to nominate. The winners will be decided by the Student Development Committee (SDC) and announced at the Clubs Party on Thursday 18 October.

---

SO VERY DIRTY

Got a fully charged iPod and a good book? There’s a casual dressing position available. Mon, Wed, Fri, 11:30am with your name on it.

If that fits in with your timetable and life ambitions please send a resume to weekly@wso3737@gmail.com or call 9388 6857 for enquiries.

SUNNY SIDE UP

Sunwell is looking for volunteers! If you’re a web developer, graphic artist, marketing guru, events manager or engineer and you’re looking for real experience in the field — get in touch! Your time as a Sunwell volunteer is recorded on your Secondary Teaching. If you’re interested in any of the roles mentioned please email questions on your resume and a short paragraph telling us what you’d like and get out of your volunteer experience.

---

THROBBING THROATS

Held a sore throat in the last few days? Use it for good and help research a new type of sore throat treatment! Participants will be paid for their time and inconvenience.

This study is running until September, so if you’ve got plenty of time to get sick and then contact: the Barbara Cross Research Unit, at Royal Hospital for Women on 9332 6621 or email: bcs@health.nsw.gov.au.

This trial has received Ethics Committee approval by the South Eastern Sydney Local Health District Ethics Committee.

---

WWW

For more Jobs and Opportunities head to: jobs.arc.unsw.edu.au
GET MORE OUT OF UNILIFE

JOIN ARC TODAY
ONLINE OR BLOCKHOUSE

ARC MEMBER DISCOUNTS
SEE OUR WEBSITE FOR FULL LIST OF DISCOUNTS

BELMOROE ROAD

CHOCOLATE MAYA
56 BELMOROE ROAD
Special Waffles - 2 pieces of waffles + strawberry + gelato ice cream - 10% discount - only $9.99

CUTWALK
63-71 BELMOROE ROAD
30% Arc Member discount on any hair service Mon-Fri by appt. only

CHARCOAL CHICKEN HANDWICK
104 BELMOROE ROAD
10% Arc Member discount

COFFEE CRAZY
118 BELMOROE ROAD
10% Arc Member discount

WHAT DO THESE BUSINESSES HAVE IN COMMON?
- They all start with C
- They are located on Belmore Rd
- They all offer Arc Members an exclusive discount

CHRIS
Marketing
What’s the worst thing to do to your roommates?
I have this policy at home called ‘Rude Friday’... But I haven’t been able to get it off the ground so far.
What’s your favourite ad on TV?
Up, those damn YouTube ads. Psych. Is Wil Anderson funny?
He’s a bit of a hit & miss actually; I didn’t think he was funny until I saw him perform at UNSW last year, but before that I was pretty underwhelmed by The Glass House.

CLARE
Arts Decator
What’s the worst thing to do to your roommates?
Leaving old food in the fridge is the worst, and leaving hair in the sink is not ideal either, but when you live with two other girls that’s unavoidable.
What are your plans for the mid semester break?
Catching up on readings and maybe getting my wisdom teeth out.
How would you describe college kids in three words?
Probably quite young.

REEVE
Arts Law
What’s the worst thing to do to your roommates?
Peace with the door open — wait... sh*t with the door open.
What are your plans for the mid semester break?
Sleep. Drink. Shag.
How would you describe college kids in three words?
Annoying. immature. overrated.

BOO
Art Theory
What’s the worst thing to do to your roommates?
Leaving public hair on the sofa or in the sink, or playing really bad music all night. What’s your favourite ad on TV?
I always get really excited when I see the ads for that wedding show with the stripper who comes out of the cake.
How would you describe college kids in three words?
Blonde, athletic, outside.

MILIJANA
Arts Decator
What are your plans for the mid semester break?
Probably just sleep — it’s become a bit of a luxury these days.
Is Wil Anderson funny?
Who? The what? The guy from where?
What do you think of college kids?
They’re very lucky to get to wake up ten minutes before class, but I also feel bad for them because they have to cook and clean for themselves.

CHRIS
Marketing
What’s the worst thing to do to your roommates?
I have this policy at home called ‘Rude Friday’... But I haven’t been able to get it off the ground so far.
What’s your favourite ad on TV?
Up, those damn YouTube ads. Psych. Is Wil Anderson funny?
He’s a bit of a hit & miss actually; I didn’t think he was funny until I saw him perform at UNSW last year, but before that I was pretty underwhelmed by The Glass House.

CLARE
Arts Decator
What’s the worst thing to do to your roommates?
Leaving old food in the fridge is the worst, and leaving hair in the sink is not ideal either, but when you live with two other girls that’s unavoidable.
What are your plans for the mid semester break?
Catching up on readings and maybe getting my wisdom teeth out.
How would you describe college kids in three words?
Probably quite young.

REEVE
Arts Law
What’s the worst thing to do to your roommates?
Peace with the door open — wait... sh*t with the door open.
What are your plans for the mid semester break?
Sleep. Drink. Shag.
How would you describe college kids in three words?
Annoying. immature. overrated.

BOO
Art Theory
What’s the worst thing to do to your roommates?
Leaving public hair on the sofa or in the sink, or playing really bad music all night. What’s your favourite ad on TV?
I always get really excited when I see the ads for that wedding show with the stripper who comes out of the cake.
How would you describe college kids in three words?
Blonde, athletic, outside.

MILIJANA
Arts Decator
What are your plans for the mid semester break?
Probably just sleep — it’s become a bit of a luxury these days.
Is Wil Anderson funny?
Who? The what? The guy from where?
What do you think of college kids?
They’re very lucky to get to wake up ten minutes before class, but I also feel bad for them because they have to cook and clean for themselves.
UNSW Student Life presents UNSW Travel Expo

UNSW Roundhouse
This Wednesday
10AM - 4PM  Free Entry

unswroundhouse.com/travelexpo