- For those who do not want to make a formal report to the police and do not want the matter investigated at this stage, the Sexual Assault Reporting Option (SARO) can be used to provide the police with information about the incident to assist them to gather intelligence around patterns of offending in NSW. The questionnaire can be completed anonymously.

Counselling and support services (face to face)

Eastern and Central Sydney Sexual Assault Service	Royal Prince Alfred Hospital, Missenden Road, Camperdown	P: (02) 9515 9040 (9am-5pm)
Victims of Crime Counselling	For support with personal issues that are affecting study	P: 1800 633 063 W: www.victimsservices.justice.nsw.gov.au – follow links to approved counselling services
UNSW Psychology and Wellness	Level 2, East Wing, Quadrangle Building, UNSW	P: (02) 9385 5418 (9am-5pm) E: counselling@unsw.edu.au

- Eastern and Central Sydney Sexual Assault Service – see information under Health. This service provides free counselling to anyone impacted by sexual assault. You do not need to have used their medical services to see a counsellor. Call within business hours and ask to speak to the intake worker.
- Victims of Crime counselling – anyone affected by a crime in NSW can apply to access this scheme. You do not need to have reported the matter to police. Through this scheme you can see an approved counsellor (usually in private practice and in a convenient location) and your fees are paid by Victims of Crime.
- UNSW Counselling and Psychological Services (CAPS) – provides counselling to all enrolled UNSW students. Male and female counsellors are available and the service is free.
- You can also access a psychologist/social worker in private practice via a GP/doctor. If you discuss your needs with the GP you may be given a Mental Health Plan, which means that Medicare card holders can access a certain number of sessions at a reduced rate.
